WATCH FOR THE SIGNS AND SYMBOLS IN YOUR LIFE

On the cruise that I took a few years ago, they had a class on the artist of light, Thomas Kinkade. I have his Disney collection and really love all of his work, so I went off and went to the class. I always knew that his work was symbolic of his Religious and Spiritual beliefs. It was amazing to learn the amount of detail. He married the love of his life, Nannette in 1982. The same year, he did the animation for a film called "Fire and Ice" and published his first book. The number 82 are placed on cars, houses ect. He love Norman Rockwell and you will find his face on people in his paintings. Boats are named after his beloved 4 daughters. When he signs a painting and there is a number in a circle, that is the number of love letters to his wife (N's hidden in the picture). Street lights will have gas lights on one side of the street and electric on the other showing the connection to time and space. Bridges will have darkness on one side and light on the other having you feel like you are coming into the light.

It amazed me. I have learned in the last decade that signs and symbols help me make powerful decisions and when I pay attention, the decisions help my life push forward in ways that I am so grateful for. The day after this class on one of the islands, a rooster that my husband was feeding pecked the arch of my foot when I was leaning on my toes in flip flops. I jumped ten feet and then laughed. When I got home, I read that this is a sign of enlightenment. Incredible changes are taking place for me and

The Mindz Eye.

New things, new teachers/practitioners and a whole new client base have arrived. I have also discovered that Medium demonstrations are a huge favorite love of mine and so healing for the people attending. It fills my heart and I know that this part of my life has been growing.

Are you noticing the signs and symbols in your life? Birds are a huge sign for me especially Robins in the snow and red tail Hawks. Soon after seeing them, some really great changes take place in my life. Dragonflies and Butterflies have so many stories to tell. Pay attention to the signs and symbols that your Spirit Guides, Angels and loved ones are sending you. I have been joking that they gave me a raise because I am finding nickels instead of pennies from heaven. It took me a while to realize that it was my Dad. He always joked that I could squeeze the b* on a buffalo nickel and turn it into a dollar. This lets me know that I can make it work financially. Pay attention to these things and at the very least, you will find peace during difficult times and you may be let into something wonderful!
